Achieve ∞ Believe ∞ Care

8th Edition - November

Dear Parents and Friends,

Sorry for the short notice for our Children in Need non-school uniform day. The children felt it was very important and should not go un-marked. They rightly took the proposal to their School Council meeting... yesterday! I know that as I sit and blub whilst enjoying the amazing entertainment on the BBC tonight, I will be filled with pride in our School Councillors. Could/should we ever be too wrapped-up in our own 'busy-ness' to contribute?

Please let us know if you intend to attend the SPTO training. This is for parents from Year Two up.

The last letters which went out about the Superstars clubs, I would like to clarify that the costs listed are for all three weeks, not per week. There are still a few spaces left.

Best Wishes

K Miles

Message about Children in Need:

Children in Need is incredibly important because it is collecting money for causes like children's hospices, hospitals, families who have lost children and children's nurseries. If we do not donate all of these causes will be lost. By Holly Manning

Children in Need helps us to appreciate what we have and to not take things for granted. We can also have fun while raising lots of money. By Xav
