Notices

- Well done School Council and Lynn. (With a little help from Pudsey) £151.85 raised.
- Thank you to all the parents that came to our parents meeting this week about accessing some assessment information about your child online. If you missed it, we encourage all parents to come and meet with their class teacher to obtain log in details. We are unable to send these home via post or your child or by email due to data protection procedures.
- The next parent meeting is on the 16th and 17th January, which will be formal appointments in the hall and an opportunity to look at your child's work. (A letter will follow nearer the time.) Of course you can make an appointment to do this at any time during the year by arrangement with your class teacher.
- Lots of litter is appearing around the school grounds, please ensure any wrappers are taken home with you from snacks given at the end of the day.
- The PTFA have extended the 'order' time for items made with the children's art work. Please get orders in as soon as possible if you haven't done so already.
- Thank you to everyone who supported the PTFA Bingo last week. A good time was had by all. Many thanks to the PTFA for organising it, Mr Steve Neilson for comparing and Mrs Lucy Daniels for ably adjudicating and co-ordinating the event.

Class News

Superstars

Wrens	In Wrens this week, Wrens have been planning and writing their own animal stories based on Elmer. In Maths, Reception have been learning all about adding and taking away and Year 1s have been solving problems with numbers to 10. In topic, we have been looking at what different animals eat and sorting them into groups – herbivores, carnivores and omnivores.	George T Barnaby Writing Star - Jacob K
Robins	This week, in Science and DT, The Robins have been learning all about the seasons. We then made calendars to show the changes from season to season. In English, we have written our hot tasks. They are poems all about bonfire night. We have used, nouns, adjectives and similes. Some children even made their poems rhyme.	Neve, Noah Sammy-Jo
Woodpeckers	This week, Woodpeckers have been busy using conjunctions when writing stories about knights. In Maths, we have been solving problems and multiplying 2-digit numbers. We have had fun participating in team sports challenges and have been practising our observational drawing skills.	Brodie & Ruben
Owls	In Owls this week we have been solving lots of different subtraction sums and using our reasoning skills to explain how to solve problems. In English we have been learning how to write a setting description. On Thursday afternoon we enjoyed ourselves at Forest School working in groups and demonstrated fantastic teamwork.	Harry, Logan vaughan Jacob
Peregrines	This week we have been busy writing descriptions for characters and settings in preparation for writing our tragedy stories. In maths we have been solving problems involving long division. We have also been discussing issues linked with anti-bullying.	Ted, Calvert, Charlie, Max
