

Maths at Home

For lots of ideas on how to discover opportunities to help your child's learning at home with number fun, as well as some top tips on things you can do together, follow this link

<https://home.oxfordowl.co.uk/maths/maths-at-home/>

You will find some strategies to help you support and nurture your child's mathematical skills and some ideas of things you can do to explore maths together at home.

Maths skills

For many of us, it's been along time since we were at school and learning about maths. Sometimes that can mean you child is learning things in new ways, with different names, or even things you've completely forgotten how to do.

To find out more about what key maths skills your child will be taught follow this link <https://home.oxfordowl.co.uk/maths/maths-skills/>

You can find out more about the level of knowledge your child will be aiming for in every age group.